

COUNCIL ON SOCIAL WORK EDUCATION

DRAFT 1 OF ACCREDITATION STANDARDS
FOR PRACTICE DOCTORAL PROGRAMS IN SOCIAL WORK
FOR PUBLIC REVIEW AND FEEDBACK
November 2018

Introduction

Current practice doctoral programs in social work are highly innovative, and the accreditation process and standards proposed will ensure that these programs can differ in their goals, curricula, and competencies of their graduates. Thus, these draft standards recognize a diverse approach for the accreditation of practice doctoral programs that encompasses the broad scope of social work practice at the doctoral level as well as the required components for a quality practice doctoral program. The key features of program accreditation standards for social work practice doctoral programs, as described below, provide a framework for the institutions developing such programs and the required components for a quality practice doctoral program. The accreditation standards focus on four features of an integrated curriculum design: (1) program mission and goals, (2) explicit curriculum, (3) implicit curriculum, and (4) assessment.

Core Expertise and Skills for Doctoral Practitioners

Social work education at the baccalaureate, master's, and doctoral levels shapes the profession's future through the education of competent professionals, the generation of knowledge, the promotion of evidence-informed practice through scientific inquiry, and the exercise of leadership within the professional community. Social work education is advanced by the scholarship of teaching and learning and scientific inquiry into its multifaceted dimensions, processes, and outcomes (EPAS, 2015). Practice doctoral programs, regardless of focus, should prepare doctoral practitioners to:

- engage in systematic inquiry that adheres to scholarly conventions;
- use and critically evaluate advanced-level evidence-based practice;
- develop and disseminate practice-relevant knowledge through a variety of channels, such as teaching, scholarship, professional presentations, mentoring, and administration;
- demonstrate leadership in social work practice and education; and
- develop and maintain substantive expertise in one or more areas of social work practice.

1. PROGRAM MISSION AND GOALS

The mission and goals of a practice doctoral social work program address the profession's purpose, are grounded in core professional values, and are informed by program context. The profession's purpose and values of service, social justice, the dignity and worth of the person, the importance of human relationships, integrity, competence, human rights, and scientific inquiry are among the core values of social work. These values underpin the explicit and implicit curricula and frame the profession's commitment to respect for all people and the quest for social and economic justice.

The program context encompasses the mission of the institution in which the program is located, and the needs and opportunities associated with the setting. Programs are further influenced by their practice communities, which are informed by their historical, political, economic, environmental, social, cultural, demographic, local, regional, and global contexts and by how they elect to engage these factors. Additional factors include new knowledge, technology, and ideas that may have a bearing on contemporary and future social work education, practice, and research.

Proposed Accreditation Standards for 1.0

- AS 1.0.1 The program submits its mission statement that includes the program focus and explains how it is consistent with the profession's purpose and values.
- AS 1.0.2 The program explains how its mission is consistent with the institutional mission and the program's context.
- AS 1.0.3 The program identifies its program goals and how they are derived from the program's mission. The program explains how program goals are consistent with the core expertise and skills for doctoral practitioners.

2. EXPLICIT CURRICULUM

The explicit curriculum constitutes the program's formal educational structure and includes the courses and academic product(s) required for the program. Programs identify a specific focus for the practice doctorate curriculum that prepares students for substantive expertise in one or more areas of social work practice. The academic product(s) should be defined by the program and utilize a form that best incorporates the requirements of the program focus and the institution that is awarding the degree. Whatever form the final academic product(s) takes, it will serve as a foundation for future scholarly practice.

Proposed Accreditation Standards for 2.0

- AS 2.0.1 The program identifies its curriculum content and academic product(s) required for the program and provides a rationale for the logical structure, timeframe, and progression of the curriculum.
- AS 2.0.2 The program explains how its curriculum is consistent with the program's mission and goals.
- AS 2.0.3 The program explains how the program focus for the curriculum prepares students for substantive expertise in an area or areas of social work practice.
- AS 2.0.4 The program explains how its curriculum prepares students to be doctoral leaders in an area or areas of social work practice.
- AS 2.0.5 The program demonstrates how its curriculum content implements the core expertise and skills for doctoral practitioners.

3. IMPLICIT CURRICULUM

The implicit curriculum refers to the learning environment in which the explicit curriculum is presented and includes areas such as the program's commitment to diversity, admissions policies and procedures, advisement and mentoring policies, student participation in governance, faculty, administrative structure, and resources.

Proposed Accreditation Standards for 3.0

Diversity

AS 3.0.1 The program describes how it creates a diverse and inclusive environment that promotes respectful discourse.

Admissions Policies and Procedures

AS 3.0.2 The program identifies the criteria it uses for admission to the social work program. The criteria for admission to the program must include an earned master's degree in social work from a CSWE-accredited program and at least two-year's post-master's experience.

AS 3.0.3 The program describes the policies and procedures for evaluating applications and notifying applicants about decisions and any contingent conditions associated with admission.

Advisement and Mentoring

AS 3.0.4 The program describes its academic advising and mentoring policies and procedures and demonstrates that they are sufficient.

Student Participation in Governance

AS 3.0.5 The program submits its policies and procedures specifying students' rights and opportunities to participate in formulating and modifying policies affecting academic and student affairs.

AS 3.0.6 The program describes how it provides opportunities for and encourages students to organize in their interests.

Faculty

AS 3.0.7 The program describes how the social work faculty has responsibility for defining the program's mission, goals, and curriculum consistent with the institution's policies.

AS 3.0.8 The program identifies each full- and part-time social work faculty member and discusses his or her qualifications, competence, expertise in social work education and practice, and years of service to the program. The program will document that all faculty members who teach in the program have doctoral degrees and the majority have master's degrees in social work from a CSWE-accredited program.

Administrative Structure

AS 3.0.9 The program describes the practice doctoral program director's leadership ability through teaching, scholarship, curriculum development, administrative experience, and other academic and professional activities in social work. The program documents that the program director has a doctoral degree, preferably in social work, and a master's degree in social work from a CSWE-accredited program.

AS 3.10 The program describes the procedures for determining the program director's assigned time to provide educational and administrative leadership to the program. The program demonstrates this time is sufficient.

Resources

AS 3.11 The program describes the procedures for budget development and administration it uses to achieve its mission and goals. The program submits a completed budget and explains how its financial resources are stable and sufficient to achieve its mission/goals and continuously improve the program.

AS 3.12 The program describes and demonstrates sufficient office and classroom space and/or computer-mediated access to achieve its mission and goals.

4. ASSESSMENT

Assessment is an integral component of any quality educational social work program. Assessment involves the systematic gathering of data about student performance and other quality benchmarks. Assessment information is used to guide student learning, assess student outcomes, assess and improve effectiveness of the curriculum, and strengthen the assessment methods used. Given that social work practice is complex and multidimensional, the assessment methods used by programs and the data collected may vary by context.

Proposed Accreditation Standards for 4.0

- AS 4.0.1 The program presents its plan and rationale for the assessment of the core expertise and skills of its graduates. At a minimum, the plan should include
- procedures related to when, where, and how each core expertise and skill is assessed, including assessment measures; and
 - a description of how the program uses this data for continuous quality improvement.
- AS 4.0.2 The program provides data on retention and graduation rates, time to completion of degree, and job placement rates and demonstrates how this data is used for continuous quality program improvement.
