ISWDRES:
CSWE’s Commission on Accreditation (COA) is recognized as the sole accrediting body for social work education in the United States and its territories. COA does not accredit social work education programs beyond the U.S. and its territories. Thus, the International Social Work Degree Recognition and Evaluation Service (ISWDRES) recognizes internationally earned academic credentials in social work that are comparable to accredited baccalaureate and master's degrees in social work in the U.S. and its territories. Recognition may be necessary to establish qualifications for employment, graduate school admission, membership in the National Association of Social Workers (NASW), state licensing, and/or certification.

Recognition is based on the general comparability of the program objectives (as stated in the program catalogue or program's official memorandum) and level of the applicant's social work education compared to social work education in the U.S. and its territories. Visit the ISWDRES webpage to learn more or apply. Questions may be directed to ISWDRES@cswe.org.

Post-Degree Fellowship Accreditation (pilot):
CSWE’s Commission on Accreditation (COA) voted to pilot the accreditation of post-degree fellowship programs at its October 2019 meeting. Accreditation of post-degree social work fellowship programs serves to recognize advanced training opportunities in focused areas of social work practice. Questions may be directed to Stephanie McNally, Manager of Social Work Fellowship Recognition, at smcnally@cswe.org.

Practice Doctoral Accreditation (pilot):
CSWE’s Commission on Accreditation (COA) voted to pilot the accreditation of practice doctoral programs at its June 2020 meeting. CSWE is moving forward to create the operational infrastructure to support this pilot accreditation process and determine when the pilot will begin. Access historical and current information about this pilot process on the Practice Doctoral Accreditation webpage. Questions may be directed to practicedoc@cswe.org.

Frequency of Communication

It is important to keep a continuous line of communication open between the accreditation team and the program. It is the program's responsibility to ensure its selected primary contact is reported to CSWE and remains current at all times for timely and consistent contact. The accreditation team sends periodic accreditation news and updates via email to the program’s primary contact after COA meetings or as needed.
It is best practice to contact accreditation staff with questions as they arise. We request your patience and understanding while awaiting our response as we may be experiencing a high volume of communications.

Unsure whom to contact with your inquiry? Review our contact reference guide.

Disclaimer About External Accreditation-related Information

Should questions arise regarding accreditation, always confirm accuracy with your program’s accreditation specialist! Neither COA nor accreditation staff review, comment on, appraise, nor endorse external presentations, publications, resources, or consultants. CSWE’s accreditation team is your primary and verified source of information. Accreditation consultations and review processes are considered confidential. Staff do not share program-specific information with other stakeholders, including other programs. This includes discussing other program’s compliance, sharing samples, offering networking connections, identifying programmatic innovations, etc.

Commercial Assessment Instruments and Packages

The COA does not endorse third-party, commercial, standardized, or customized assessment instruments and packages. Although the COA does not prohibit the use of these commercial packages, it is the responsibility of programs to craft and utilize assessment plans with measures that are compliant with the EPAS.

Program Role & Responsibility

Accreditation is an elective, program-driven, and self-managed peer-review process. Programs will not receive prompts nor reminders. Programs are solely responsible for implementing, demonstrating, and maintaining compliance with the EPAS. Thus, it is important to understand all tools and resources available to you in order to successfully navigate the accreditation process.

Commitment to Quality

Similar to accredited programs, the COA and accreditation team are also committed to and engaging in continuous quality improvement efforts. This translates to updates and enhancements to policies, procedures, interpretations, requirements, and resources. COA and staff are diligent in providing e-mail blast updates to programs when changes and clarifications occur, or when new resources are published.

Resources Overview

The COA and accreditation staff share the goal of making the accreditation process transparent, accessible, developmental, and supportive. To this end, the website contains a robust amount of information and rich resources to guide you in your continuous quality improvement efforts and accreditation reviews.
Always check the CSWE website and download the most updated documents before submitting items to the COA and/or accreditation staff!
