

Katherine A. Kendall Institute for International Social Work Education Request for Grant Proposals

Dear Applicant,

The Katherine A. Kendall Institute for International Social Work Education (KAKI) strives to prepare educators, researchers, students, and practitioners for an increasingly global community through its programs and initiatives. Established in 2004 with contributions to an endowment in honor of the late international social work icon Dr. Katherine A. Kendall, KAKI promotes standards of excellence for international social work to integrate related concepts into social work curricula and seeks to enrich perspectives, understandings, collaboration, and networking within the social work community.

KAKI is pleased to offer up to three international social work grant opportunities to Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) members at a maximum of $10,000 for the CSWE fiscal year 2017–2018. KAKI hopes to fund projects that support education in international social work and enhance curriculum building that focuses on international and/or global topics. The projects should help prepare North American students for global citizenship and encourage opportunities for international social work. The grant topics should strengthen what Americans know about the world and should be U.S. based. Opportunities can also include work with nongovernmental organizations, the United Nations, or other international entities. Priority will be given to projects that more broadly advance international education for U.S. based students.

This grant is open to all CSWE members; one member of the project team must be a CSWE member throughout the duration of the grant. Travel funding should not be the primary purpose of the grant application. Progress reports will be required; additionally, grantees may be asked to disseminate the results of their work to the appropriate scholarly and public audiences. Projects should be completed within 3 years. Each project participant must be affiliated with an organization that strengthens social work education. Grants cannot be used to pay overhead costs.

Proposals will be accepted through the online application available at <https://cswe.fluidreview.com/> through April 1, 2017. Funds will be disseminated after July 1, 2017. Thank you for your interest in KAKI.

Sincerely,

The Katherine A. Kendall Institute Advisory Board

Proposal Contents

1. Project Abstract

The abstract should present a concise summary of the project. It should include the need for the project, the population it will serve, and its goals and objectives, as well as the applicant's background and qualifications. Make sure you include the amount of funding that is being sought. Finally, mention how the project will be evaluated to measure its success.

2. Statement of Need

The statement of need should describe the problem the project will address. Also, describe the population that will be served. The statement of need should show how the proposed project will advance the state of the art in international education.

3. Project Description

Describe the project and provide information on how it will be implemented. Include descriptions of what will be accomplished and the desired outcome. Be sure to indicate how these will advance education for international social work and benefit other programs.

4. Goals and Objectives

Describe the project objectives as related to specific expected outcomes. Be sure to indicate how these objectives will advance education for international social work and benefit other programs.

5. Timeline

Provide a timeline for the project, including when the project funds will used.

6. Dissemination

Describe plans for disseminating the project's results, findings, and information to further global social work education among U.S. social work programs.

7. Budget

Include in the budget all expenses for your project. Provide specifics about how funds will enhance or support your project. Project funds are not to be used primarily to fund faculty or student travel. If travel costs are included, they must be kept to a minimum. Please mention any funding from other sources.
