SW214 Final Exam- Informal Oral Presentation of Proposal

Guidelines and Rubric

Verbally expressing the ideas you have written about in your research proposal is a way to solidify your learning and share the work you have done with your peers. To prepare for this informal oral presentation you will need to follow these steps:

1. Upload your final IRB Proposal draft to the final exam forum- be sure to create a new discussion post.
2. Prepare to summarize each section of your proposal for the class.
3. You are not required to prepare a PowerPoint or Handout- but if this would help you go for it!
4. Your peers will be able to read over your proposal as you present your summary so feel free to reference something you have written
5. Prepare to speak for about 10 minutes and aim to cover each section using the following outline:
    a. Research topic and question- why you chose it
    b. Most important take aways from your literature review
    c. Methods (design, sampling plan, and measures)
    d. Data analysis plan
6. Provide time for 2-3 questions or comments from peers.
7. You will receive written feedback- via the forum- from each person in the class on your proposal using the questions posted below.

    Something that impresses me about this proposal is:

    Something that is confusing or a question I have about this proposal is:
