Grading Rubric for SW 730 Single Subject Report

Assignment Elements	Excellent	Competent	Needs Work
Methods	Accurately describes all the following components and provides sufficient justifications: 1. The target behavior/feeling/thought that the study is seeking to change. Explain why to address this target behavior/feeling/thought. 2. How the target behavior/feeling/thought being operationalized into an indicator (frequency, magnitude, and duration). Justify why this indicator operationalized in such way (for example, why frequency rather than magnitude; whether to create a scale to measure magnitude, etc.) 3. Two measurable indicators that can be measured by frequency, magnitude, or duration. 4. Details of step-by-step intervention plan. Any challenges encountered (e.g., difficulties sticking to the intervention plan, frustration, self-consciousness, etc.). Any positive experiences related to the intervention that occurred while conducting the intervention plan.	Accurately describes at least 3 of these components and provided some justifications.	Accurately describes 2 or less components with little or no justification provided.
Major Findings/ Results	Accurately and clearly displays two graphs to show all the changes of indicators during baseline (5-7 days) and intervention phase (7-10 days) Accurately summarize all key findings and explain if the goals of interventions have been achieved or any improvement in targeted behavior/feeling/thought.	Displays two graphs to show changes of indicators as a result of intervention but does not provide complete summary of findings	Only display one graph, presentation of graphic information and key findings either not clear or accurate.
Discussion	Discuss clearly and adequately the following three areas: 1. Strengths and weaknesses of the project in terms of research design (AB), intervention, and data collection methods. 2. Any reliability or validity/reactivity problems 3. whether the proposed intervention was successful or not and explain why	Discuss clearly two of the areas and provide some explanations	Discuss one or two of the areas with little explanation or comments

Conclusion	Accurately evaluate the overall experience in carrying out this study: 1. Like the experience or not 2. Whether it was an effective way to make a change in someone/their life? 3. Benefits and burdens of using this type of intervention for the project 4. Since students have practiced this type of research design (AB), their thoughts on its applicability to social work practice	Only three of the areas listed are accurately addressed when students evaluate their experience in carrying out the study.	Only one or two areas listed are addressed and with little reflection and discussion.
